

Fine Dining on the Go

Think outside the boxed lunch

Boxed lunches don't need to be a cold meal! Increase your profits by expanding your menu to include hot signature items. Anchor's Culinary Series will preserve the look and taste of your best catered event while you transport it to the drop off location. Secure, leak resistant lids assure you have no messy spills and packages lock securely when stacked. Clear, anti-fog lids prevent errors and make it easy for your customer to serve food that looks fresh and appealing. Or why not drop off fully prepared, chilled meals that can be reheated in the microwave when your client is ready to eat? Anchor's broad line of premium hinged products will exceed your packaging requirements for ready-to-eat hot or cold meals and ready-to-heat options. Save time and money with tear-away lids that require no re-plating when ready to serve or choose the "Basics" value offering that still out-performs other packages in the market.
